RAISE BENEFIT:

DEVIN LAUBI FOUNDATION

The Devin Laubi Foundation raises funds to financially assist families of children stricken with cancer to ensure the children have what they really need, their parents. Parents have enough to worry about when caring for a seriously ill child. They should not have to worry about their bills or job security during this time of crisis. Frightened children need every facet of their parents' attention.

The Foundation's aim is to remove one of the many burdens of cancer.

Our family learned this first hand, with the loss of our six-year-old son, Devin, to cancer (medulloblastoma, a brain tumor). This was a devastating loss. The financial ramifications forced us to make decisions no parent should have to consider: go to work or be where your heart is, or potentially lose your home from the loss of income. Maintaining stability and normalcy is difficult during turmoil.
